Beware of Internet Investment Fraud

Scammers lure victims into downloading fraudulent mobile applications or creating an account on a fake investment website by clicking on unknown links, using low-risk and high-return opportunities as bait. Subsequently, the fraudsters ask victims to transfer their money to unidentified personal investment accounts.

The fraudsters deliver a small return or send fake interest distribution reports through the fraudulent mobile application/investment website for initial transactions, tricking the victims into believing them. Once the victims invest more, the fraudsters flee with the money.
